Letter of Recommendation:

Nic Van Heerden is a consummate professional, manager, in his role as Personal Security Detail project manager of Falcon Group there is no comparison I can make to his outstanding performance. He dedicates himself to being the best and bringing the best out of his subordinates. He is able to operate in a changing and fast moving tactical environment. During Nic's tenure with Falcon he supervised over 20 Expatriates and 50 local nationals staff daily, a well respected leader he followed corporate direction and gave out accurate guidance with little or no interruption. His ability to interact with people is his strongest quality always treating people with respect and in turn is respected throughout the Company. Over the past 2 years he has impressed me with a great work ethic, unbelievable stamina, and the initiative to get the job done with little or limited guidance or instruction. During periods as Security Director he made timely well informed decisions and kept security and operations flowing without an interruption of service. Chief instructor for all aspects of site operations PSD, QRF, Range master, trainer. Nic has lead numerous PSD missions for internal and client support without incident. His interactions with the US and Iraqi military in support of the war effort supplying intelligence and insight are invaluable to coalition efforts. The bottom line I would go anywhere with Nic, I have worked with the best security and military personnel in the world and consider Nic equal to any of them. He has made a difference.
